

Prince Frederick at Spithead, 14th July 1719.

Sir,

Having received advice from the Secty of the Admiralty that your Board has been desired to Supply the Dursely Gally with Nine Pounders, if possible, from Portsm^o in case she came without them from Plymouth, and as she is, I desire you will immediately Supply the same; and if you have no directions from your Board about it, that you will please to write to them thereupon, and go forward with her Guns in the mean time

I am
Sir Your most humble serv^t
James Waghell

Mr Cooper Storekeeper of the Ordnance, Portsmouth

14th July 1719

Adm^l: Mcghells Letter

Wth ord^{rs} for Dursley Galley

Prince Frederick at Spithead 14th July 1719

Sir

Having received advice from the sectry of the Admiralty that your Board has been desired to supply the Dursley Galley with Nine Pounders, if possible, from Portsm^o in case She came without them from Plymouth, and as She is, I desire you will immediately supply the same; and if you have no directions from your Board about it, that you will please to write them thereupon, and go forward with her guns in the mean time.

I am

Sir

Your most humble serv^t

James Mcghells

Mr Hooper storekeeper of the Ordnance,
Portsmouth

It is likely that this was in preparation for the raid on Vigo, Spain which Vice Admiral James Mighells commanded.